

Let it go...

Imagine each balloon in front of you represents something heavy you've been carrying...old regrets, fears, self-doubt, or past hurt. As you write down what no longer serves you inside each balloon, take a deep breath and picture yourself releasing them into the sky.